THE ROLE OF A GENERAL AGENT

Our general agents play a vital role in fulfilling our founder's dream. These men assume the daily responsibilities of leading our field force, and making sure that our members and their families receive the best service they can provide.

General agents lead regional agency teams. They select, contract, educate, train, motivate, and assist local field agents. They carry the mantle of the Knights of Columbus insurance program in their territories, and, together with their field agents, provide exclusive access to our product portfolio. General Agents also serve as the primary fraternal liaison for the insurance program, and assist fraternal leaders in accomplishing their goals.

In their quest to build a strong agency culture of success and service in their agencies, our general agents are always looking for good, Catholic men who can become successful field agents. If you know someone who would make a great field agent with the Knights of Columbus, contact me today.

OUR MISSION

Not Just Any Insurance Company... Your Insurance Company

For more than 130 years, the Knights of Columbus Insurance program has carried on the vision of its founder, Venerable Father Michael J. McGivney, by protecting hundreds of thousands of Catholic families.

Today, we have more than $100 billion of life insurance in force, and nearly 1,500 brother Knight field agents across North America.

We are—first and foremost—a Catholic business. We will not invest in companies that deal in abortions and abortifacients, pornography, and other lines of business that violate Church teaching.

We invest ethically, and give generously.
